THE DRAFT

When August rolled around, the draft for the BHS teams was complete. On August 19 all players were assigned to their designated teams. Getting acquainted was the first objective. Practice schedules were announced: Monday through Friday, 8 am to 3 pm, September through May.

When a team is formed, certain characteristics are vital for a successful season. The BHS teams combined enthusiasm, participation, and practice for a prosperous and winning season.

Upper right: David Bowers is absolutely stunned by another one of Buckel's "Adventurous Tales."

Middle right: As the bell rings the first day, all students come happy-faced into the building to start another school year.

Lower right: Late arrival Jerry Rudman hurries to join friends anxiously awaiting the beginning of the new season.

Below: New faculty members get acquainted with each other and the rules.

ENTHUSIASM

School spirit was high at the first pep rally. Students yelled not only for their classes, but also gave full support to the Panthers. In sports and every other area, a touch of enthusiasm was present. During the Homecoming preparations, the seniors were all high-spirited and could not wait for that magic day — October 14. Juniors, too, were all pepped up when that particular time of the year came to select class rings. Spirit was evident in the students; there was a touch of enthusiasm in every teacher. Each was anxious to begin classes every day. Even Mr. Roach felt that certain tingle of excitement. Through the entire year never was there a dull moment, because of that one thing — Enthusiasm!

Far right: The clowns of BHS — Sophomores

Right: Mr. Roach gives the daily announcements.

Middle right: The juniors long waited dream is coming true.

Below left: Students get involved at a recess pep rally.

Below right: Darrell Morse, Mark Mathis, and Eddie Dunnaway work very diligently on the senior monster — term paper!

Above: Mrs. Sullivan and Mrs. McGee check on the permanent records.

PARTICIPATION

Whether it involved making signs after school, or trudging up into the stands during a football game, students participated. Participation is important, because without it nothing can be accomplished. BHS students accomplished in outside activities and in the classroom. Each student was a part of the whole.

Right: Susan Summers just can not believe she did it!

Below: Wonder who has the ball in the middle of all those football players?

Far below: Jon Lofton practices on his forehand swing.

Below right: Terrie Smith says that it will be twenty-five cents for this young lady.

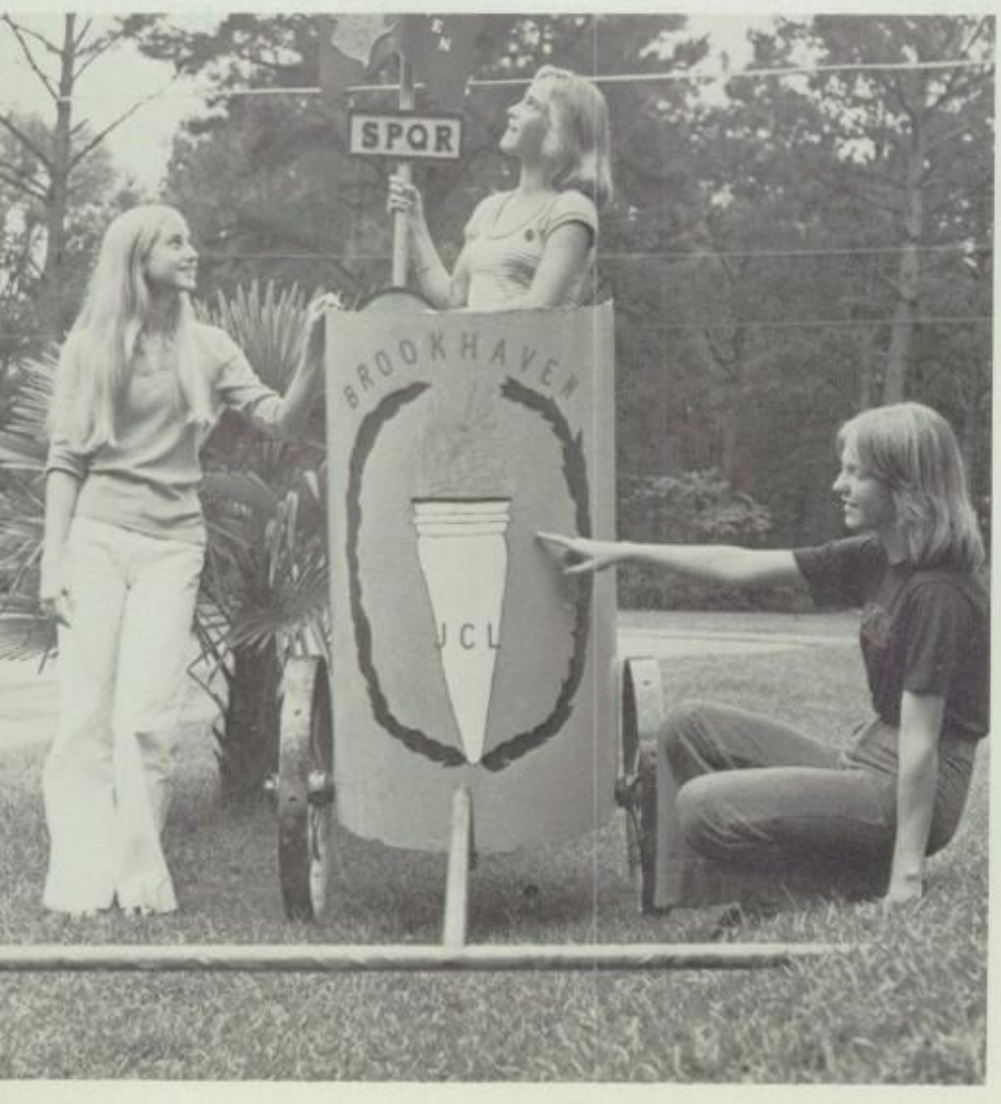
Below Left: Judy Smith, Vanessa Smith, and Connie Haley are astounded by last year's Latin projects.

Below right: The seniors lead the student body and let them know who is the ruling class.



PRACTICE

For any team to win, practice is essential. Practice enables members to function as one large body, rather than as many little separate ones. The final reward is worth the hard work. It is not whether a team wins or loses, but how it plays the game that counts. Through thick and thin, victory and loss, our team stuck together to the end.

When the strenuous practice is over, it is time for that long-awaited game. The teams are ready and raring to go, so--LET'S PLAY BALL!

Right: Auto-mechanics students learn about the engine of a car.

Below right: The band puts in a few extra hours.

THE METRIC WHAT?

The metric system switchover seems to have thrown everyone into confusion, which is the reason many are opposed to it. However, according to Ms. Henderson, It's important that all students know the metric system for a number of reasons. Believe it or not, the metric system is much simpler than the English system, because everything is based on units of ten. For example, 10 millimeters equal 1 centimeter, 10 centimeters equal 1 decimeter, and so on. Quite simple!

Another reason is that the United States and Canada are the only countries left in the world that still use the English system. This costs us millions of dollars each year in trade, so save a little money by learning the metric system.

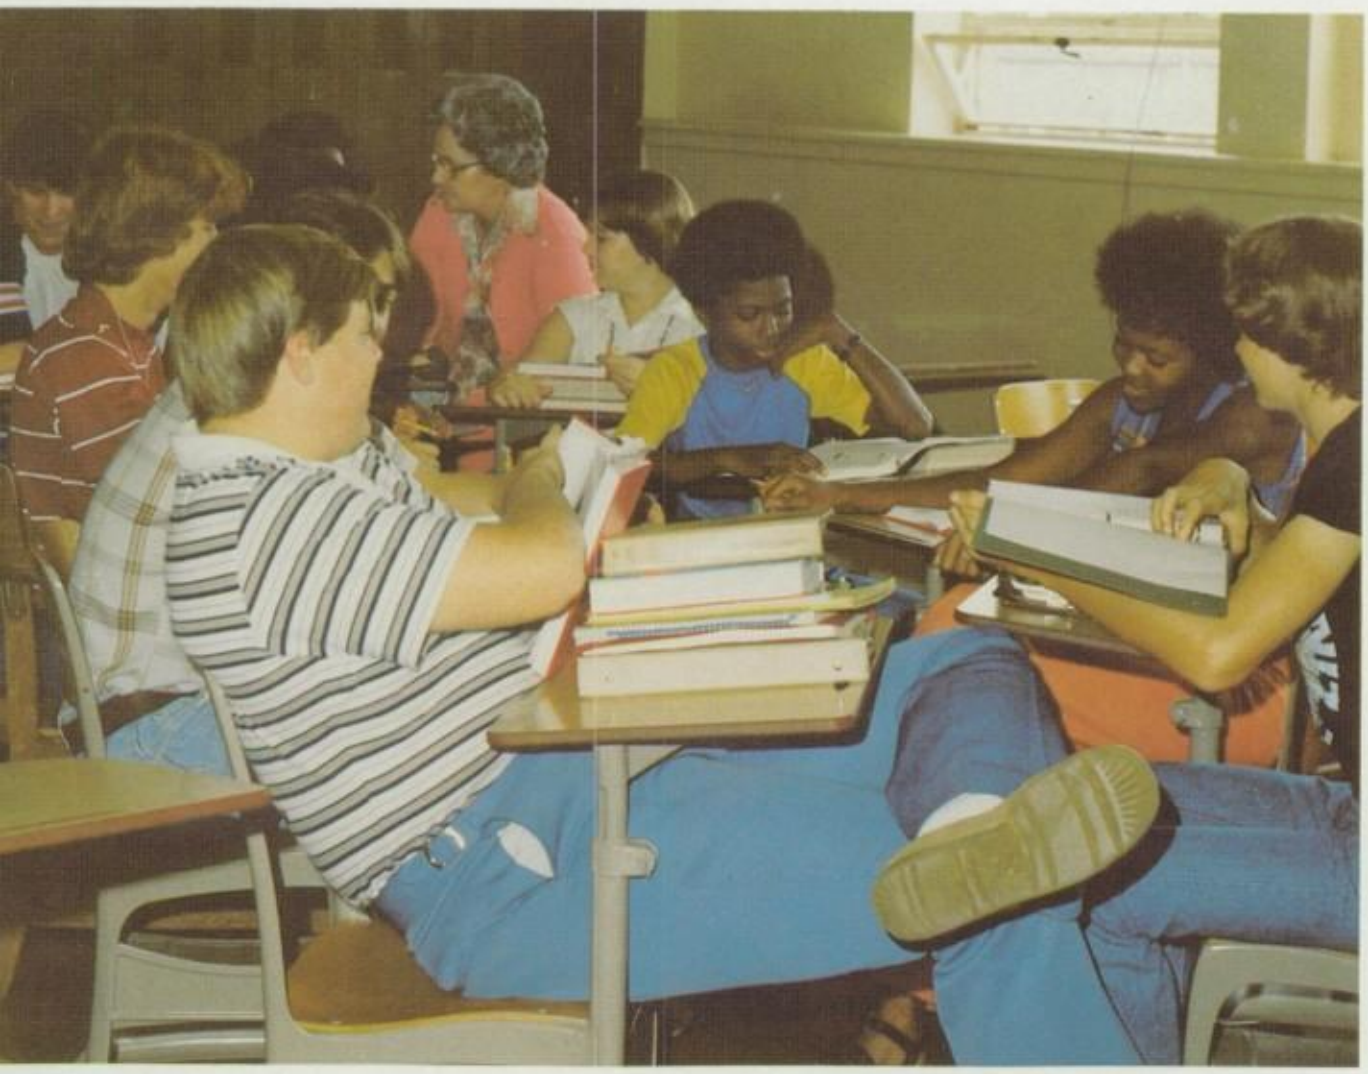
FROM FROGS TO MEDICINE

Below: Advanced Biology students teach each other during Ms. Parsons' absence.



With an enrollment of twelve future doctors and one systems-analyst-to-be, the Advanced Biology class began its first year at BHS. The first few weeks were dedicated to cleaning up and painting the biology lab, now known as the Advanced Biology Lab. Students were allowed to do independent research and even to take an independent field trip in search of the wild planaria.

Left: Ms. Roach guards the fort due to Ms. Parsons' illness.

MAKING HISTORY

Students of today are making the history of tomorrow. The feats of wisdom and stamina needed to face fear-inspiring Government tests are one way of discovering leadership ability. Intensive methods of teaching, which include a study of current events as well as American history, government, and economics prepare BHS students.

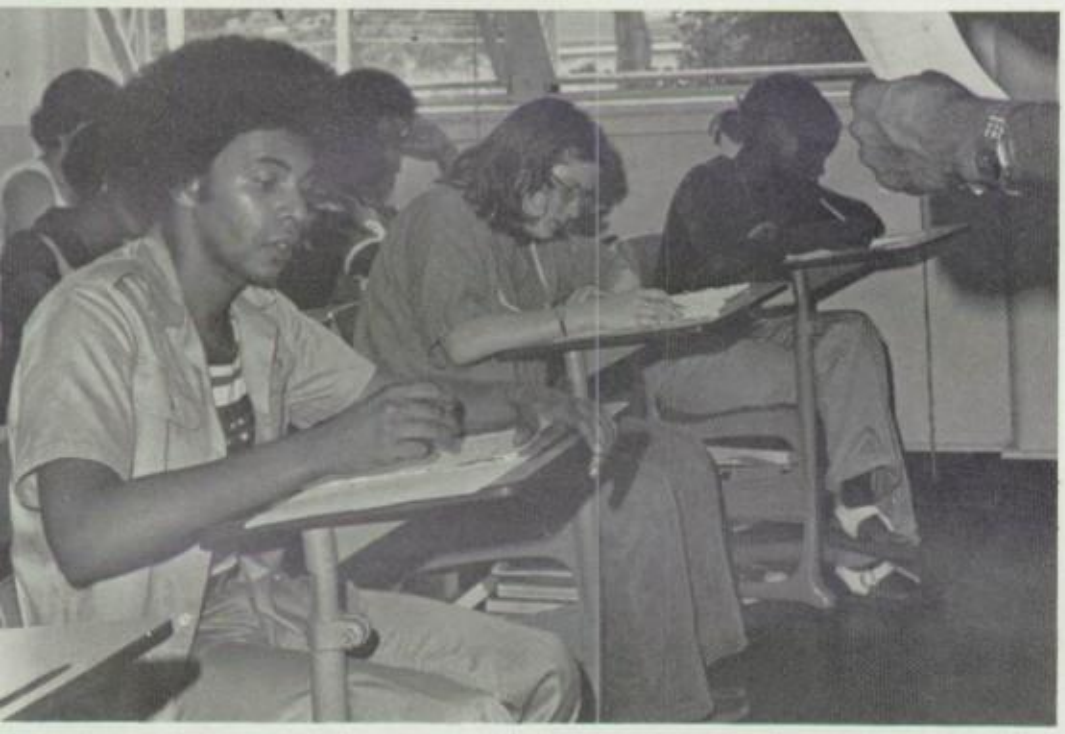
Top right: Mr. Magee gets his point across to his World History class.

Middle right: Ms. Holloway takes a short break to let Economics sink in.

Below: Mr. Wyatt frequently allows his students to catch up on current events. Frank Moak reacts to Beetle Bailey, his current event for the day.

IT'S ONLY LOGICAL

Since first grade, students have known 1 plus 1 equals 2. It is only logical. But, when the alphabet gets into the act, things are never quite the same. It seems that no matter how many times the operation of x plus y is performed, 2 is never the answer.



Top left: In Geometry class, students learn and teach at the same time by explaining problems on the board.

Below: Everyone is bewildered by Modern Analysis.

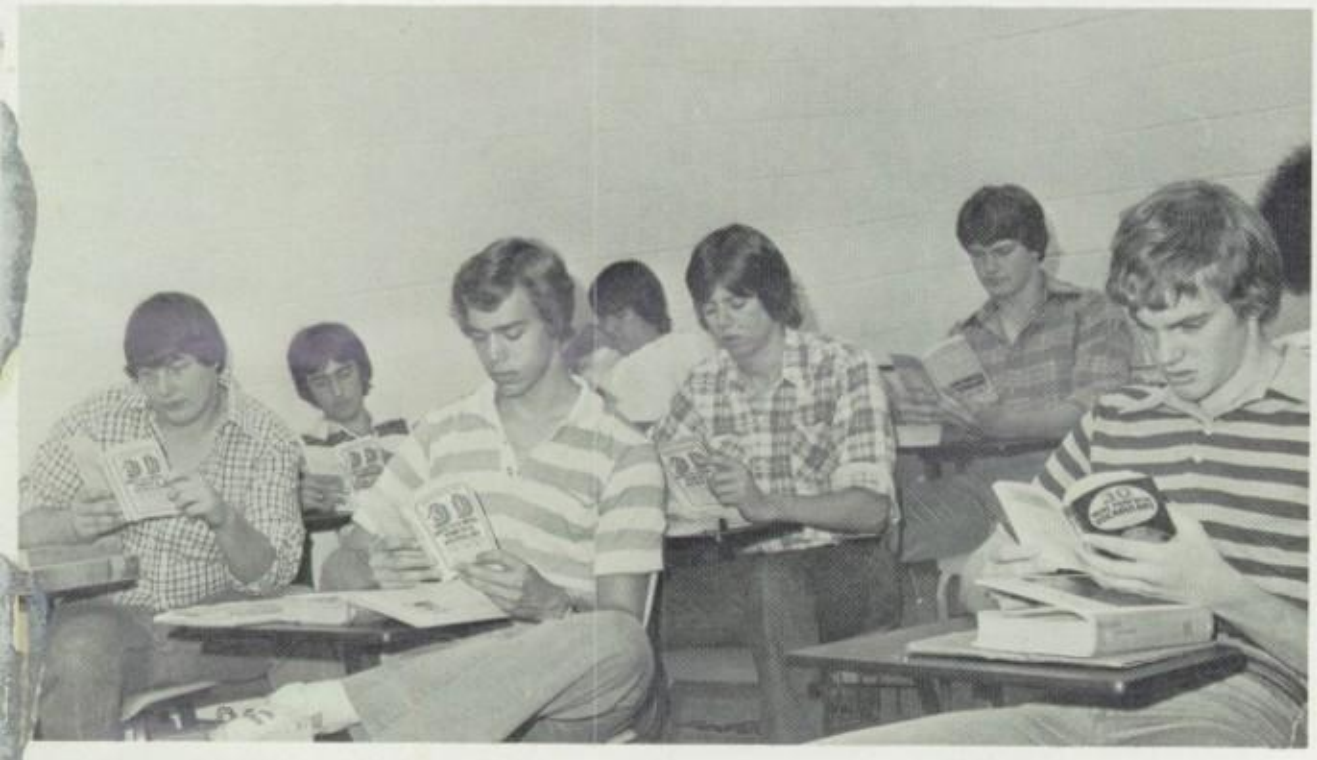
DIEALBIEN AND MORE WORK

Far left: Frank Jeanson and Charlie Wilson put their feelings on the board.

Left: Practicing parliamentary procedure according to ROBERTS' RULES OF ORDER.

Middle left: Ms. Brown's senior English class enlarges their vocabulary.



How does one learn English or a new language? Conjugation, memory work, translation, and accent study blended with determination are required to speak a language fluently. Is it worth it?

A Spanish student replied with a resounding affirmation, "I feel a sense of accomplishment, and it has widened my scope in that I've seen what life is like in other parts of the world."

PREPARING FOR THE

Right: Not only are these building trade students learning a new trade, they are also saving the school approximately $15 dollars an hour.

Below: Too many cooks spoil a soup? Auto-mechanics guys examine their ''soup'', a 1973 Chevy 350 engine.

WORLD OF WORK

Preparing for the world of work-that is the main idea behind Brookhaven High School's Vocational-Technical Complex. Students get the "hands-on" training they need to succeed in a trade or technical area by doing jobs themselves instead of just observing.

Home economics gives students practical experience in becoming efficient homemakers.

Above left: Cooperative education is not all on-the-job training. Helpful tips are given on all facets of work from social security to the proper attitude.

Far left: The sophomores are looking young this year, but this is ridiculous.

ANNUAL STAFF

The 1978 OLE BROOK was not as easy to produce as it may look. Many late hours were spent working on layouts, choosing pictures, typing body copy, and trying to meet deadlines. It took lots of hard work and co-operation to make the 1978 Ole Brook the best yet!

STUDENT COUNCIL ADDS

An important part of school life is Student Council. This active group promoted outstanding projects such as Basketball Day, Red and Blue Day, and sign making for all football games. Headed by President Amy Sproles, the officers, sponsors, and active members worked long hours to make our school year the best ever, by involving students in all activities around BHS's beautiful campus.

Top: Officers: (Back row) Tommy Tadlock, Reporter, Frank Jeanson, Treasurer, Pam Washington, Secretary, (Front) Perry Cameron, V-President, and Amy Sproles, President of the S.C.

HELPFUL COUNCILS

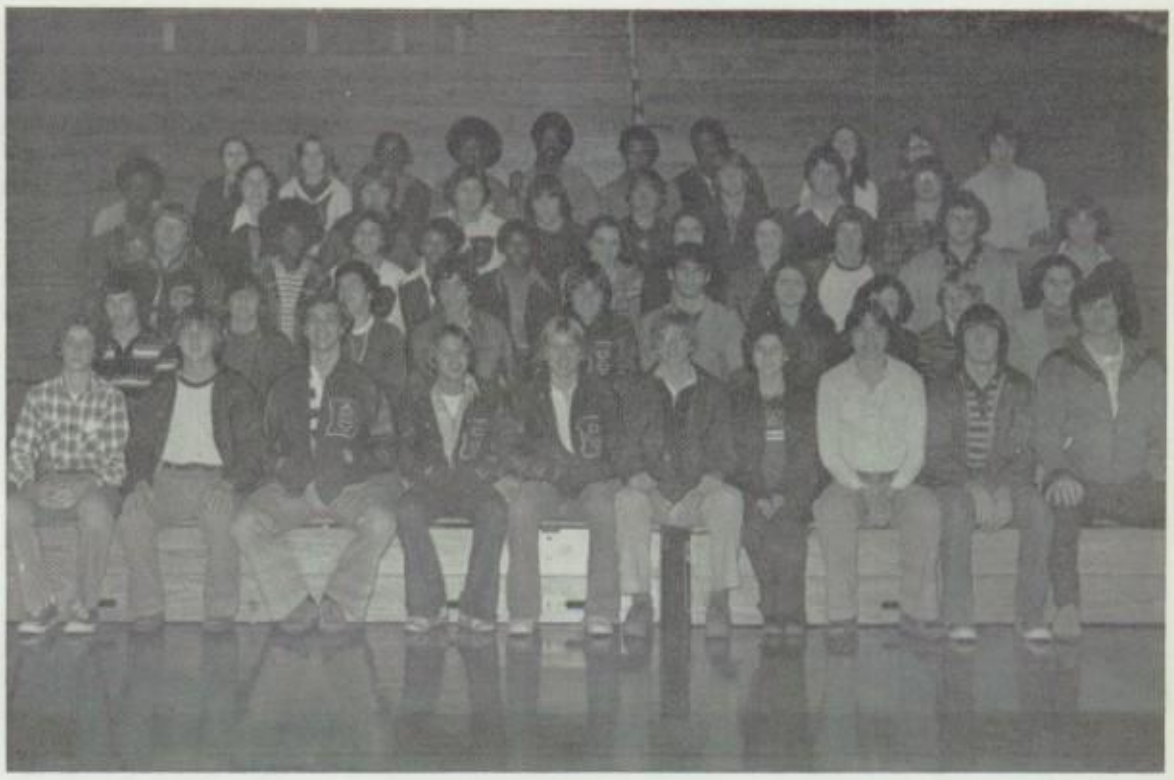
The Administrative Council

The Peer Council

The Administrative Council is the voice of the students. It worked hard to relay ideas of the student body to the school administration through representatives elected by each class. Representatives are: Robert Clay, Lisa Black, Karen Jones, Perry Cameron, Lucy Wall, John Holland (not pictured), and Mr. Garner, Leader.

Members of the Peer Council, lead by Mrs. Ralph Smith, received a unique experience in learning. They worked with youngsters and teenagers in helping them cope with problems. In doing so, they also learned how to deal with many of their own problems.

CHRISTIAN CLUBS



Hi-Y was to males what Y-Teens was to females. It offered the opportunity to grow in wisdom, knowledge, and love of God in an atmosphere that was full of Christian fellowship.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes Chapter was created at BHS under the guidance of athletic director, Larry Thomas. Its purpose was to allow athletes of all sports and cheerleaders to unite in fellowship and to discuss how, through God, they can cope with problems of every day life. The FCA is a rapidly growing organization and is active in schools and colleges all across the nation.

Top: Hi-Y Members
Center: Hi-Y officers are: John Thomas, Ed Reel, Tommy Tadlock, Mr. Wyatt, sponsor

ACTIVE CHRISTIAN GIRLS

Y-Teen, an organization designed to give all girls a chance for Christian fellowship, worked together to obtain their goals and ideals. Through their numerous projects, Y-Teens proved to everyone their willingness to work and serve, and show their knowledge and love of God.

Top: Senior Y-Teen members and officers-Amy Sproles, Marietta Fields, Melinda Lea, Judy Delaughter, and Mrs. Parsons, sponsor.

MATHEMATICIANS AND SCIENTISTS

The vivacious group of scientists in the BHS Science Club, devoted to their cause, experimented, investigated, and solved some of the most difficult problems in the world.

Mathematicians, Unite! Mu Alpha Theta did just that. They came together to share their knowledge of Algebra I, II, and Geometry. Together they had a rewarding year filled with quotients, X's, Y's, and sums, etc . . .

FOREIGN LANGUAGES

The Romans of BHS, under the leadership of Miss Strait, were kept busy looking deeper into the ancient culture and civilization of Rome. They actively participated in building a catapult and in going to the state convention.

The German Club, which was started this year, was small in number but they made up for it with their spirit.

BUSINESS CLUBS AT BHS

BHS's first Chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America began under the leadership of Ms. G. Graham and Ms. B. Burkes. The FBLA worked hard with projects and state and national competition which prepared students for the business world.

The Vocational Technical Clubs of America gave members information about jobs and careers for them.

HOMEMAKERS AND LIBRARIANS

The Future Homemakers of America promoted high ideals for home and family life. It was composed of Home-Ec. students who had a willing desire to help others.

The Library Club was made up of students who, during their vacant periods, aided Mrs. Lewis and helped students find information.

THE PRESS AND THE SPANIARDS

Members of the PANTHER PRINTS Staff worked hard at making each edition a sellout.

One of the most interesting and enjoyable clubs is the Spanish Club, led by Senora Spearman. Members learned songs, dances, and different customs which included a breaking of the pinata.

BHS SONGBIRDS

The Brookhaven High School Chorus, under the leadership of Mrs. Grim, hit all the right notes! The group supported a sextet and a pop group and all were thoroughly enjoyed by the students and faculty.

BHS ASSEMBLY PROGRAMS

This past year BHS has had many different assembly programs ranging from a General Motors special on new scientific findings to the Annual Staff's rendition of "Space 2078." All in all, BHS students spent many activity periods enjoying exciting assembly programs during the 77-78 school year.

HOMECOMING FUN BEGINS

Frolic and fun was the order of the day on October 14, 1977. Seniors worked diligently at transforming the school into a World Series, complete with a stage playing field and a genuine hot dog stand. That afternoon memories were relived and friendships rekindled when alumni and friends registered and watched Seniors bat a thousand with, "Take Me Out To The Ball Game". Afterwards a reception honoring the beautiful Homecoming Court and alumni was held in the Vo-Tech. That night as a misty dusk fell on BHS, the lovely queen, the maids, and escorts were presented on King Field prior to the Brookhaven -v- Yazoo City game.

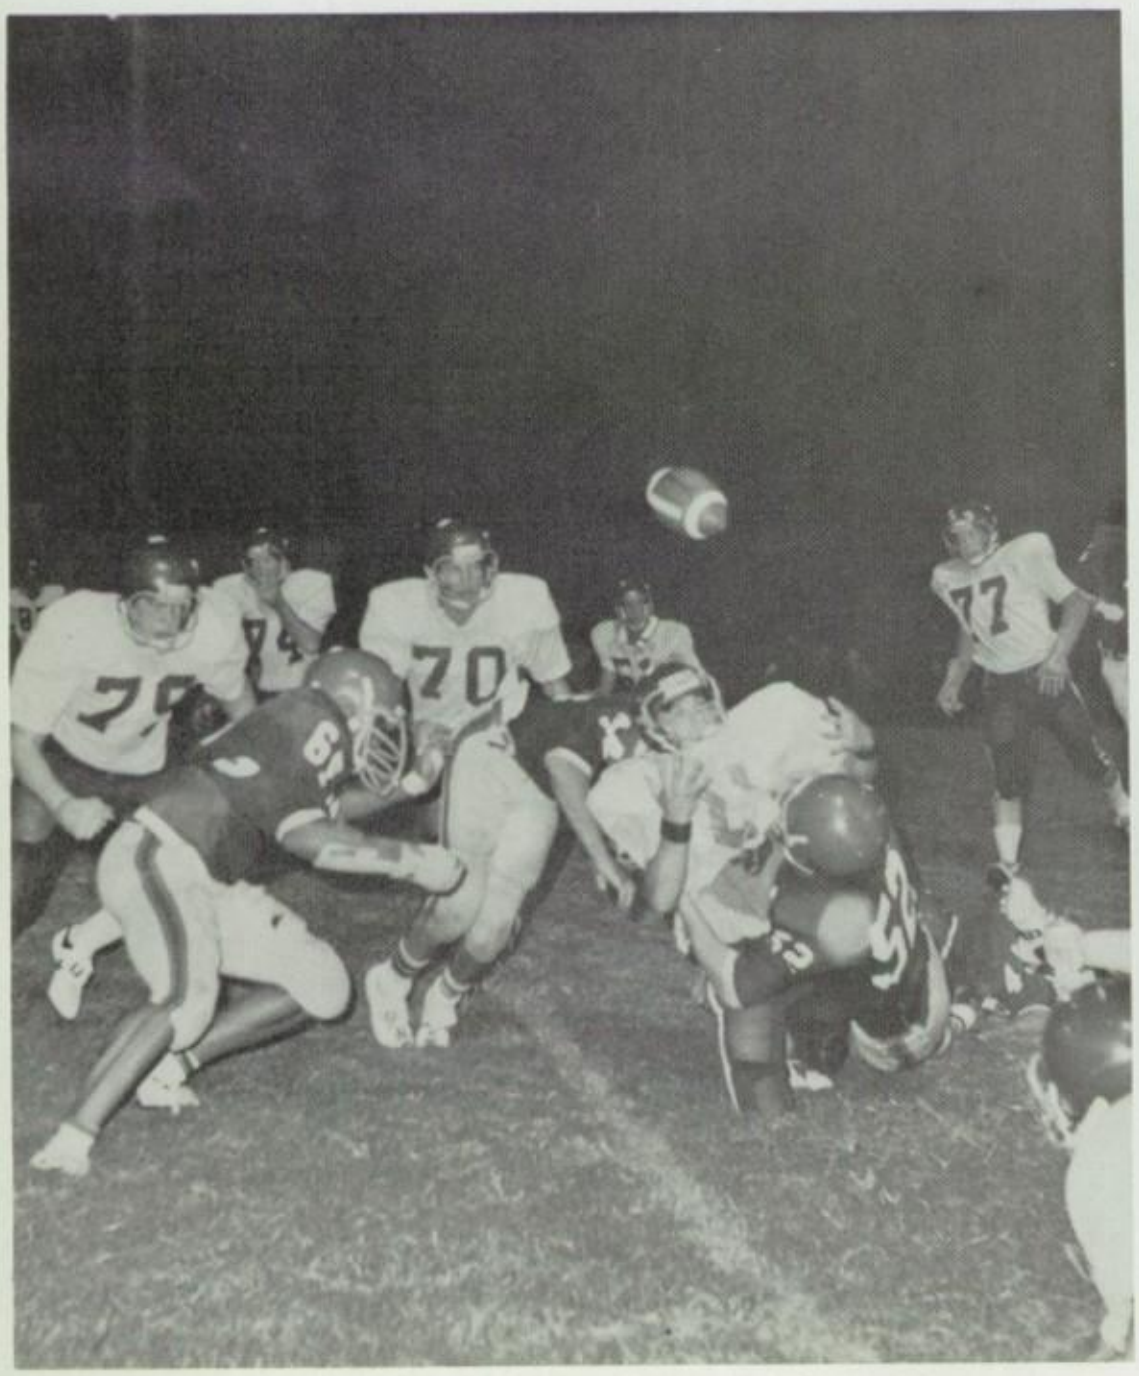
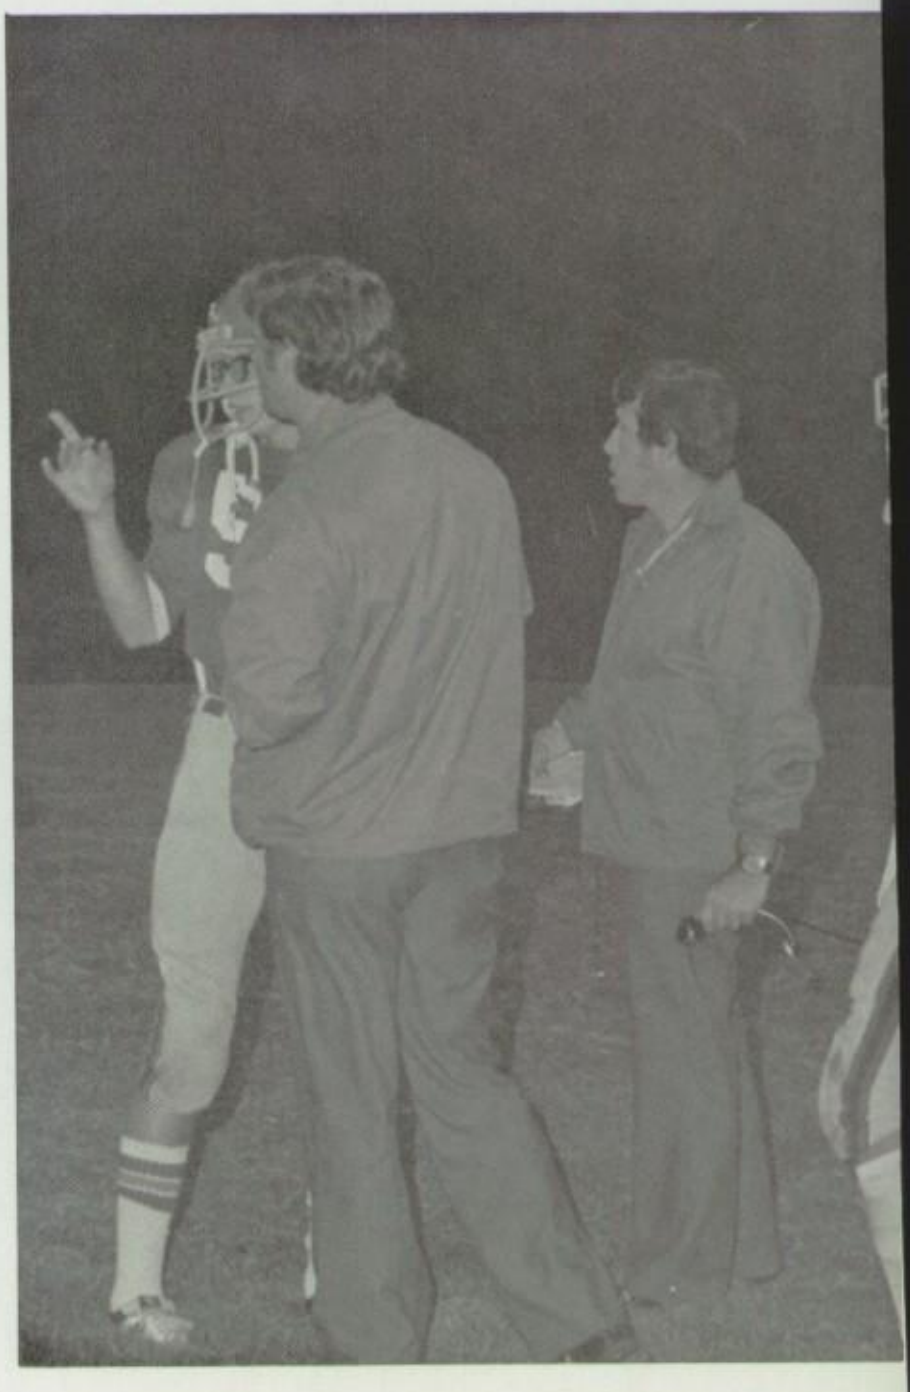
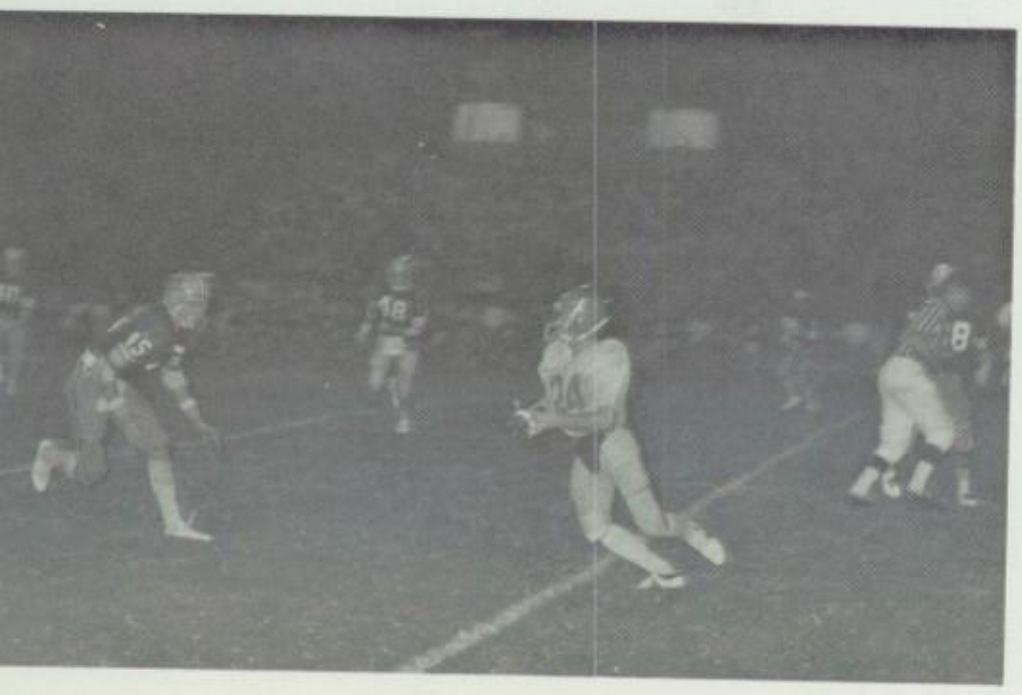
Below right: Coach Thomas reveals his strategy.

The whistle blew and a motion from the ref opened the 1977 football season for BHS. Many long, hot, and hard practices had been spent in preparation for the season's tough schedule. Despite the Panthers' hard work and determination, their first eight games ended in defeat.





DYNAMIC SPIRIT



The first few losses did not get BHS down. Their efforts finally paid off when the Panthers travelled to the 9th-ranked team in the state, Wingfield. Neither team had scored until late in the 3rd quarter when Chism intercepted a pass. He ran it in to put the Panthers ahead 6-0. BHS's awesome defense held the Falcons and Brookhaven captured its first victory in two years.

THEY COMPETED OVERALL . . .

The Pantherettes opened the '77-'78 season in the West Lincoln Tournament with a runner-up finish to Bogue Chitto. Second place was not good enough for the determined Pantherettes. With senior leadership and outstanding coaching, they ironed out the kinks and captured the Central Big-8 title with convincing victories over Hattiesburg and Laurel. Then they advanced to the Overall Big-8 Tournament in Greenville where they fell 3 points short of victory in the semi-finals.

Through victory and defeat, the Pantherettes maintained a good attitude and grew as a team both on and off the court.

THEY PROVED THEY WERE FOR REAL

The Panthers exploded into action with 16 victories in a row before dropping their first game to South Natchez in the Bogue Chitto Holiday Classic. Rebounding quickly, the Panthers roared into the finals of the Central Big-8 Tournament. But, the top-seeded Panthers lost a heartbreaker to McComb in the last 4 seconds of play. The Panthers finished the season with a 26-2 record. They worked hard this year and we are proud of them.

THROUGH VICTORY AND DEFEAT

Anxiously awaiting the first game of the season were the spirited BHS cheerleaders. They lead and directed cheers to build up the morale of the players and fans. Even though they were faced with a lot of hard work, they always seemed to enjoy themselves and wear a smile.

Left center: Mr. Adams is a sloppy eater.
Bottom Left: Girls dress out.
Bottom Right: Go get 'em, Laurie.

THEY GAVE US THEIR ALL

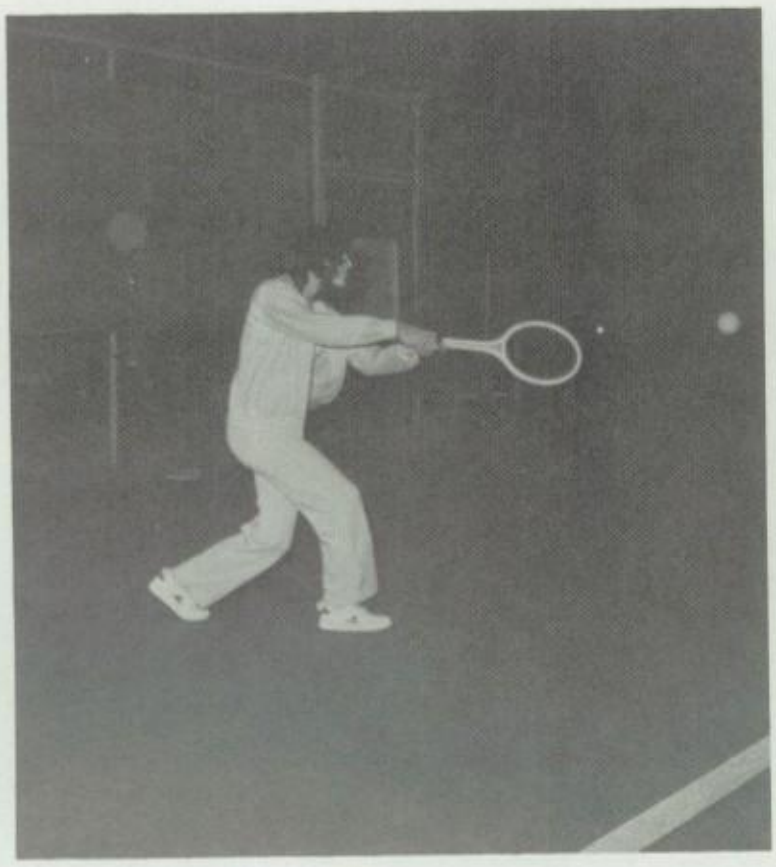
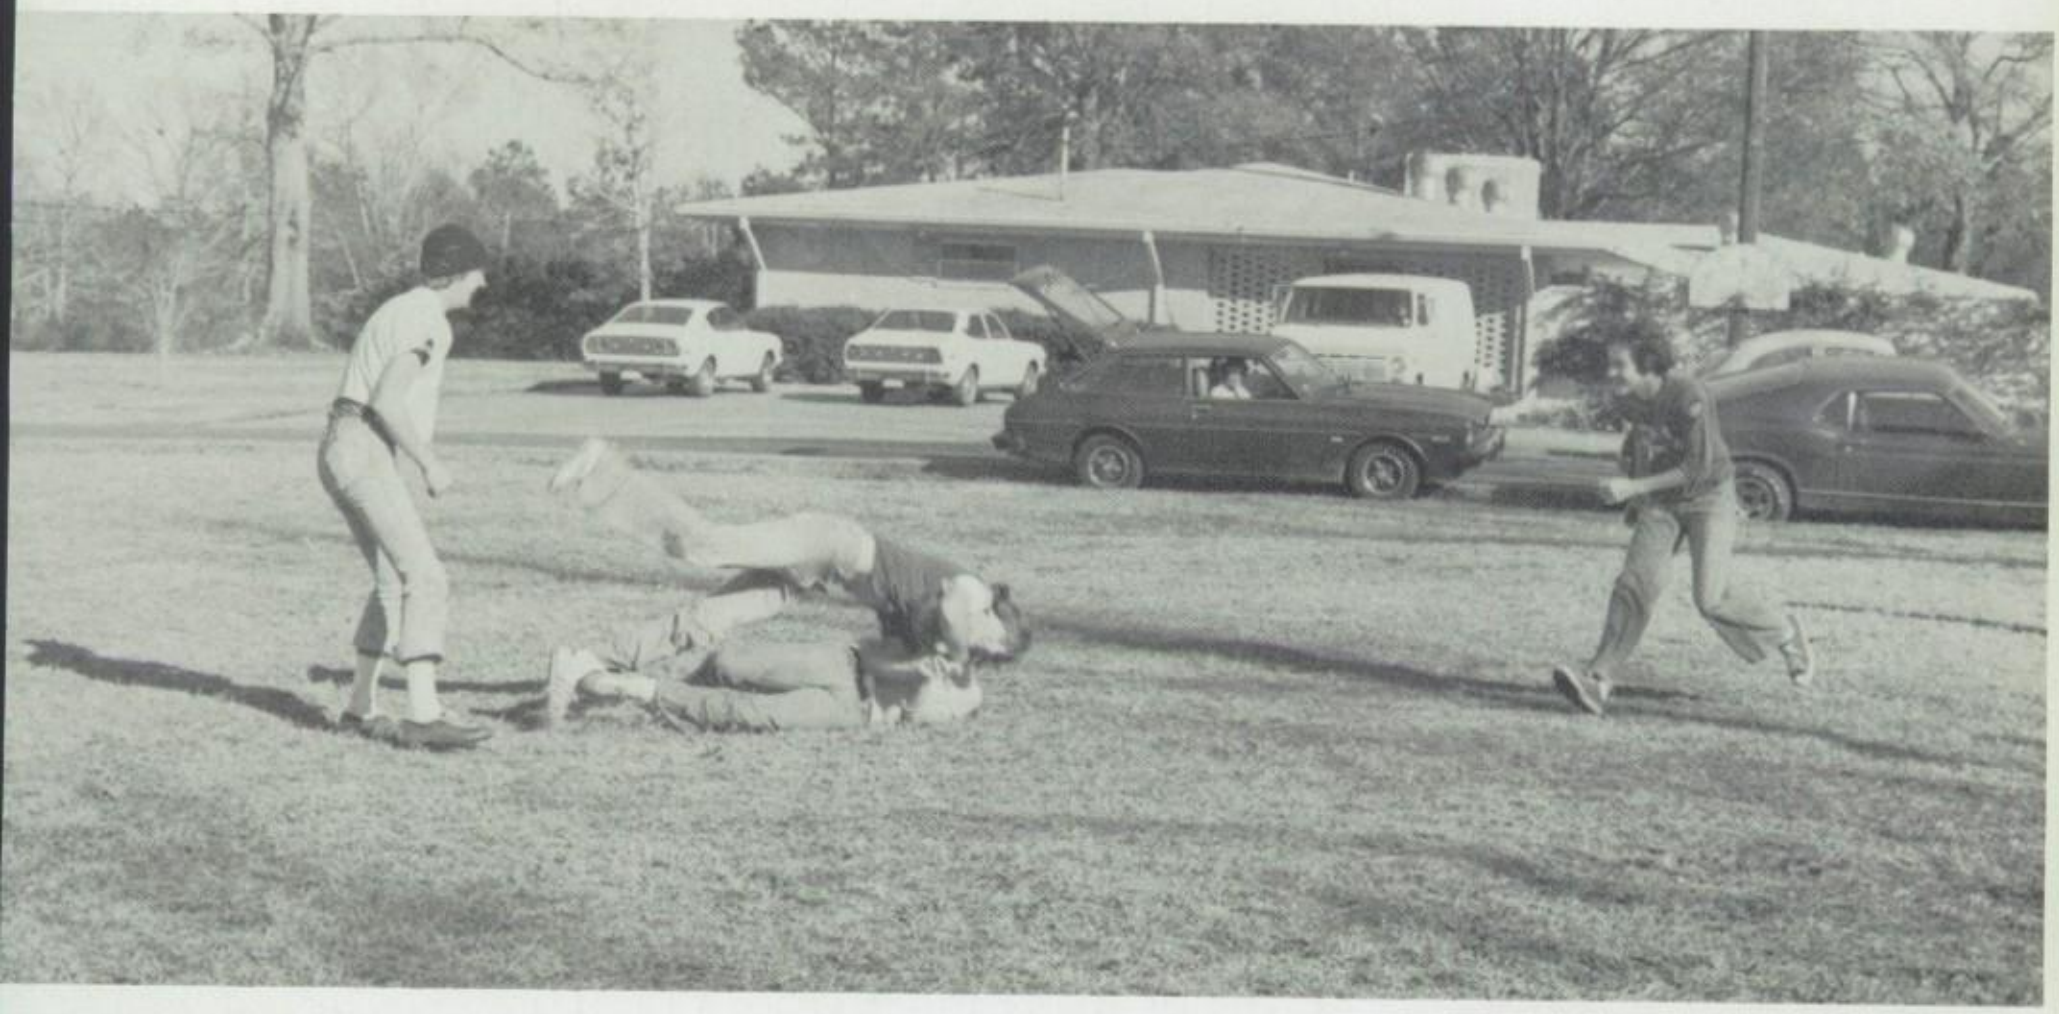
INDIVIDUAL SUCCESS

Many sports and talents go without any recognition. At BHS many students compete on an individual level in tournaments, horse shows, and Sunday afternoon football games. Others exhibit skills in such as playing an instrument and skateboarding. This variety in talents helps to promote interest in sports.



Top: Nancy Sinclair and Meg Elliot hit a few balls.
Center: Go get it girl. Bring it here. Good Dog!
Right: Janice and Poco prepare for a ride.

MAKES THE SCENE



Top: David and Glenn to the rescue.
Bottom Left: Ken blows his horn.
Center: You can do it, Mike.
Bottom : Crush it, Nancy!

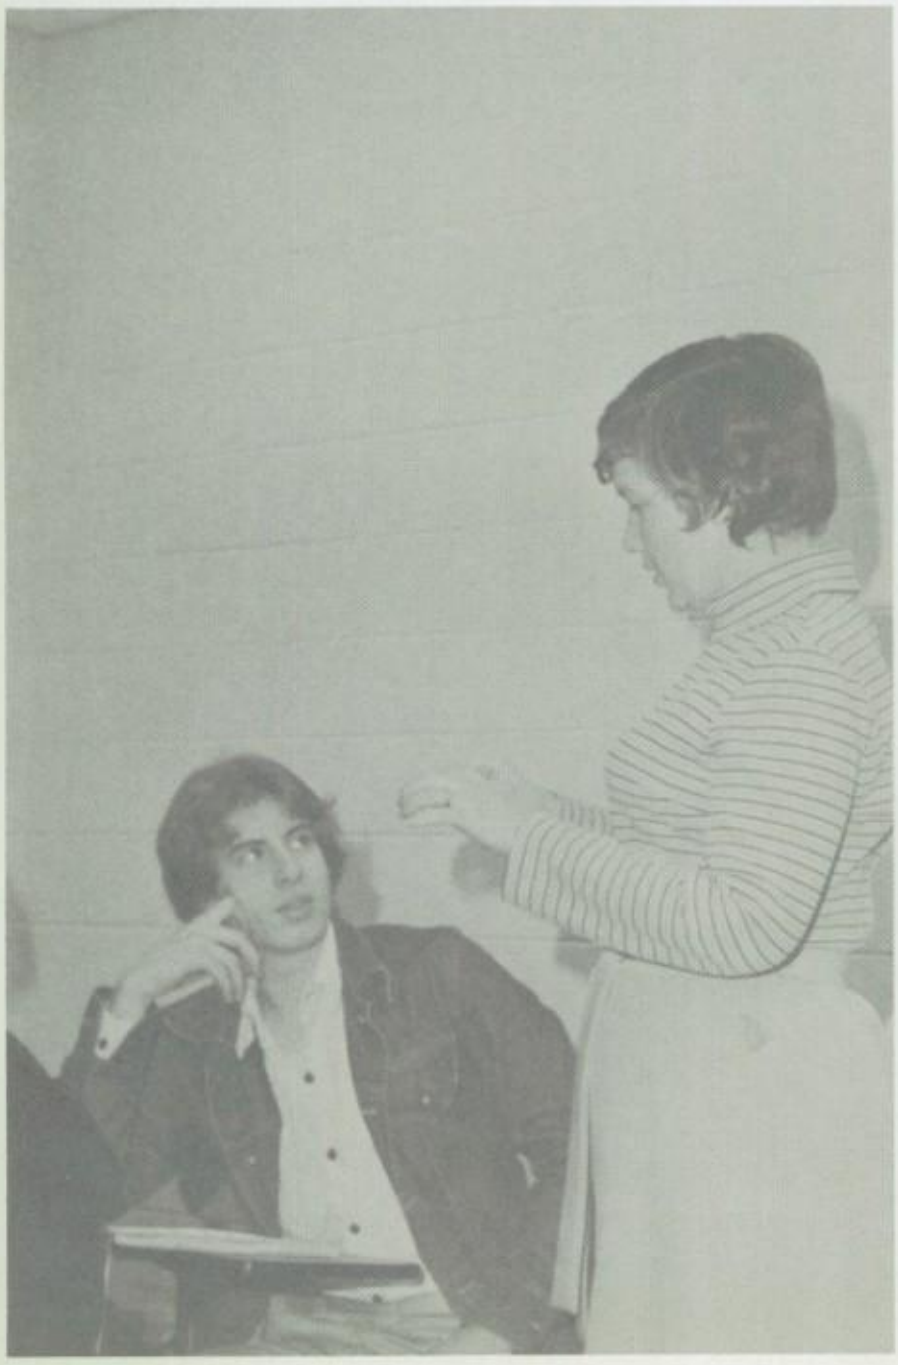
TACKLES

To insure victory, the opposing force must be stopped. The BHS teams tackled the problem head-on and with the strong, dependable leadership of Coach Roach, the teams learned all the plays necessary to block the opposing force.

Right: Lauri Price portrays Edith Ann and says, "I don't have to say nothing if I don't want to, and that's the truth!"

Bottom right: Mr. Warren tries to persuade Mr. Adams to give him some of his popcorn, but Mr. Adams keeps it all for himself.

Bottom left: Robert seems to have a sudden urge to faint when Mrs. Brown tells him that the entire passage needs to be in quotations.



Top left: The chorus shares their songs of praise during the Christmas season.

Top right: Judy Delaughter says, "Hi! May I take your order?"

Left: Boy, I sure do wish I had that roll!

TACTICS

For any team to win, skill to accomplish a particular goal, must be attained. The BHS teams accomplished. In every area team members gave their all. In student clubs such as Student Council, in sports, and in classrooms, efforts to win were consistent.

Right: Mrs. Hart does her homework while Mr. Smith studies a new branch of physics-baseball.

Center: Mike Buckels decides to beat the drab cast blues by brightening up things with a little graffiti.

Bottom right: Star Student and Teacher for 1978- Wayne Gardner and Mrs. Dot Parsons.

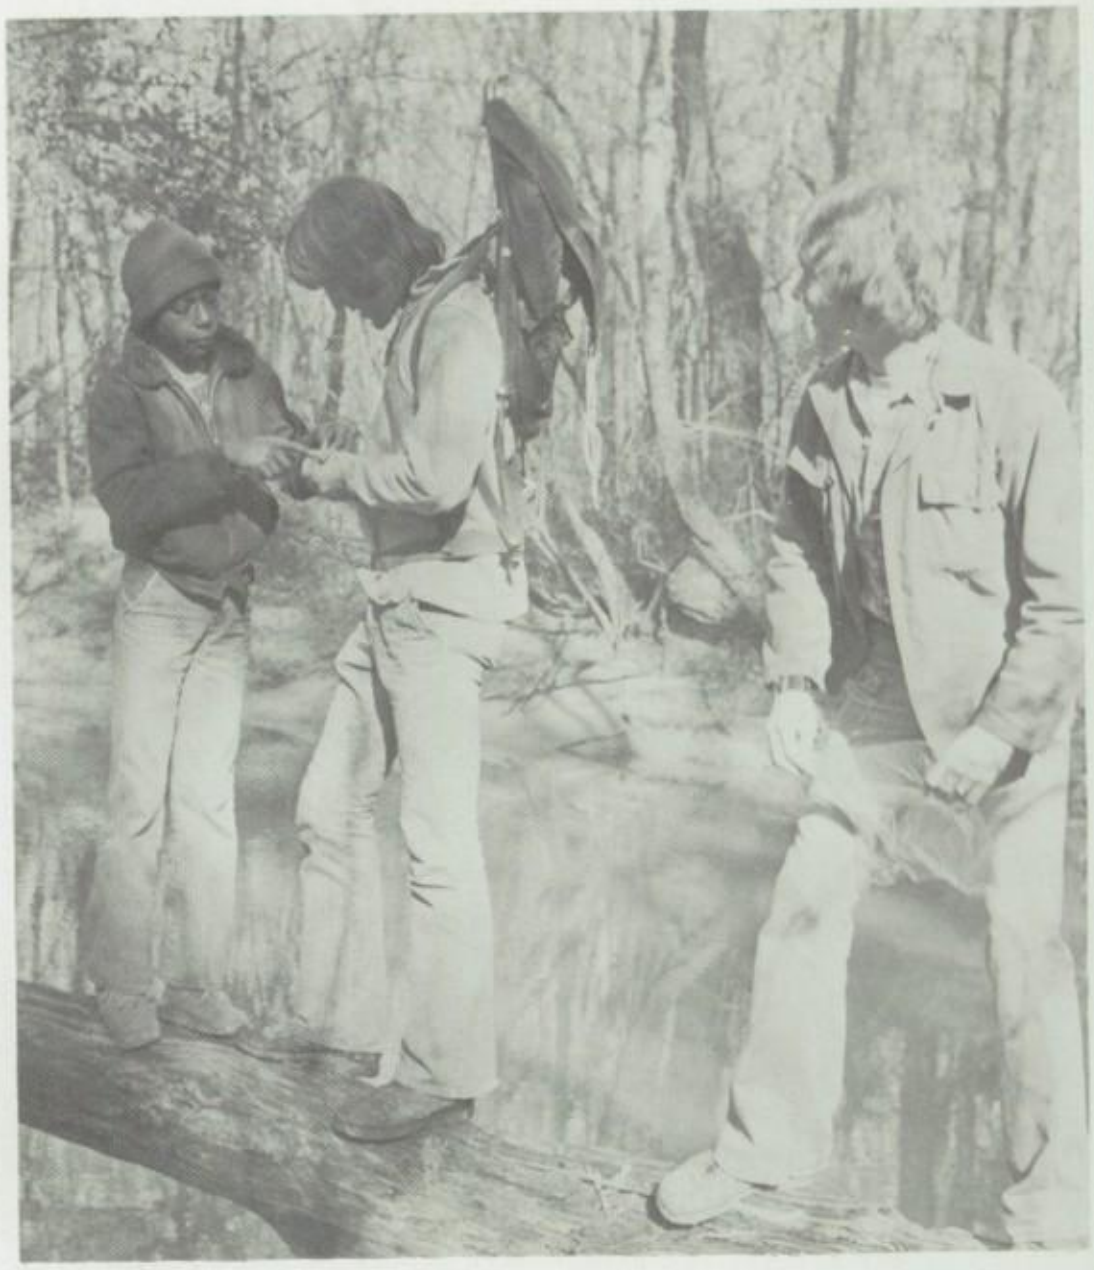
TOUCHDOWNS

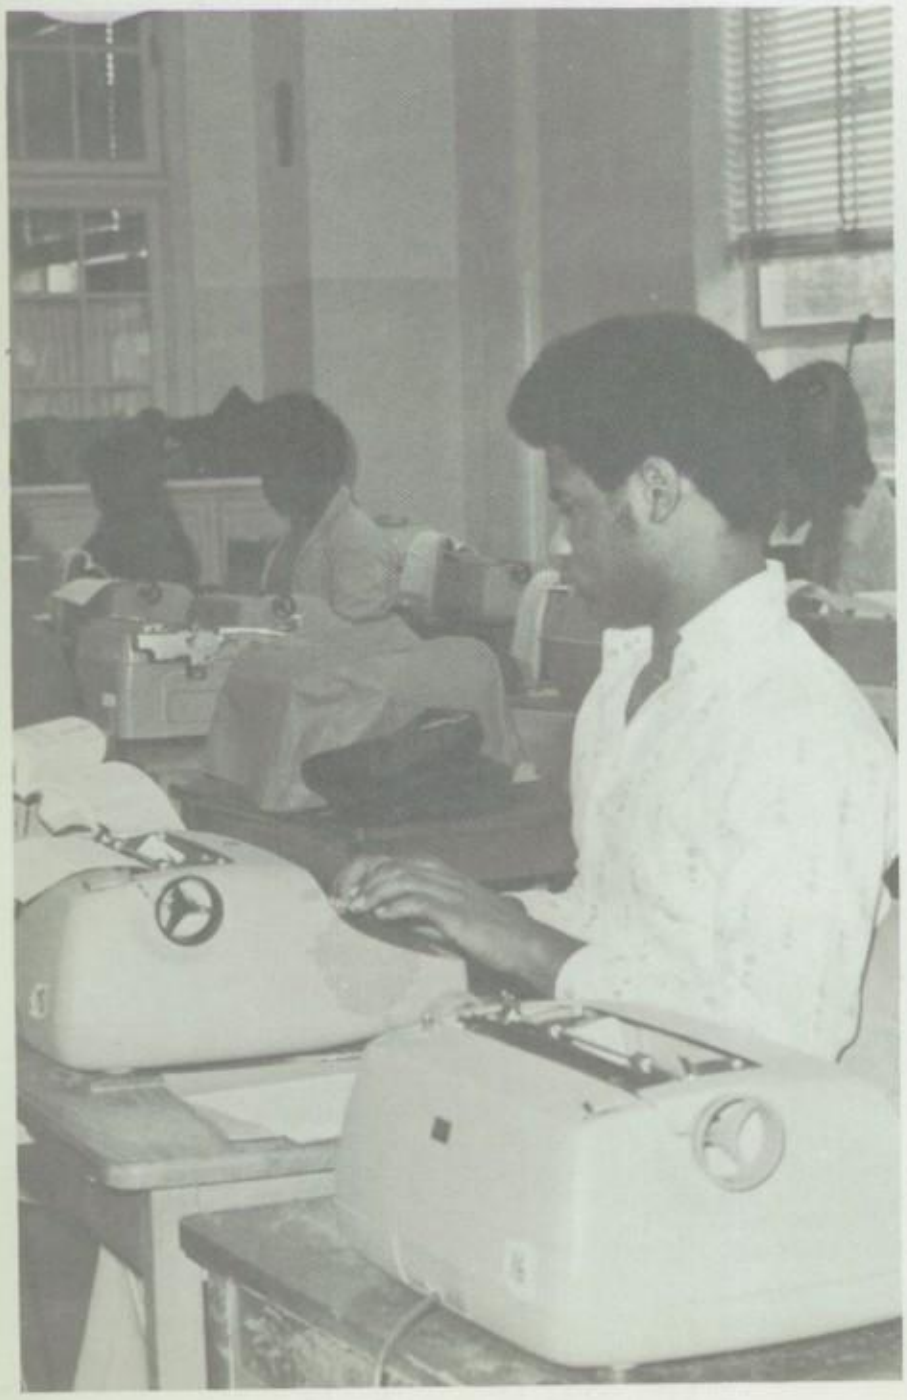
Points determine the winner. The BHS teams made the touchdowns, the baskets, and the extra points. To make these points, BHS worked as a team, combining knowledge, ability, and spirit.

Right: Jimmy, that is not a termite; it is just dirt under your fingernail.

Bottom right: Mrs. Campbell explains to Farmer Tadlock that Trig just doesn't grow on trees.

Bottom left: My mind is willing but my fingers are weak.





Top left: You've already put sugar in that tea!

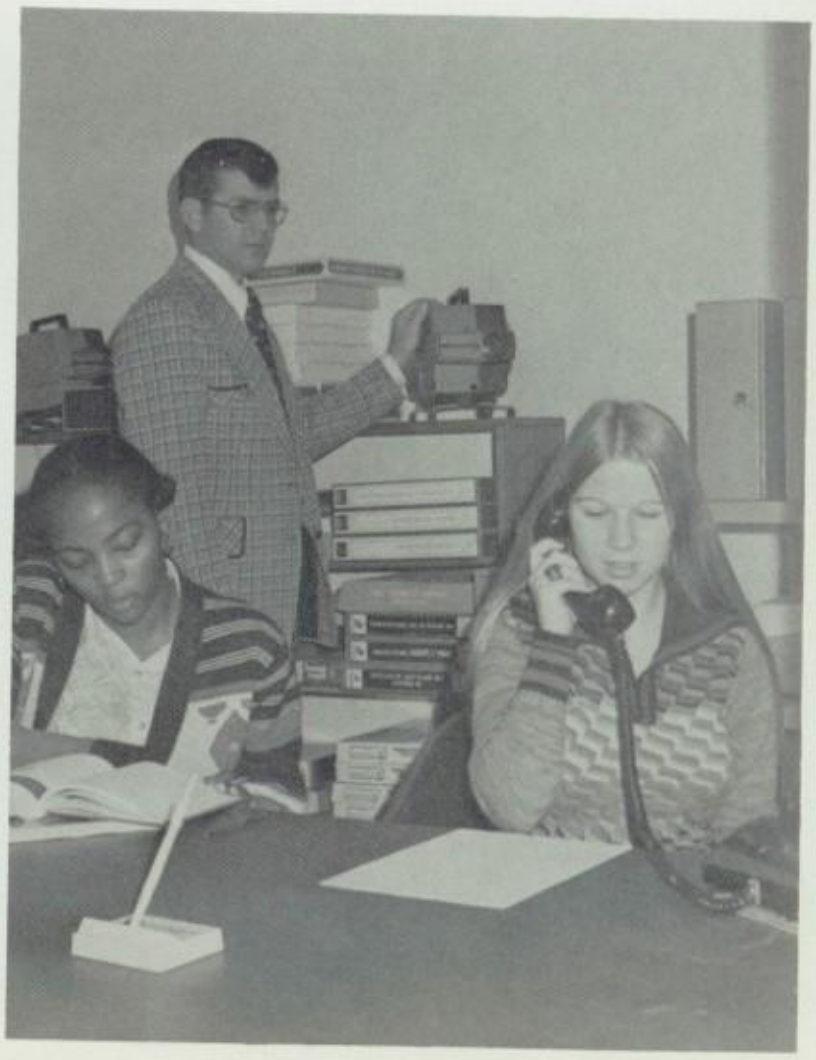
Below: Naomi Stanton and Theresa McKee get office experience under Mr. Herring's watchful eye.



TWO-MINUTES

OVERTIME

Participation in spring sports was very evident at BHS. Every student got in on a piece of the action whether they participated or gave support for a winning team. Every spring sport represented BHS well. On the golf course as well as on the tennis courts BHS students gave their all to insure the completion of a winning season.
